

Central Michigan University Science and Technology Residential College

Activity and Event Categories

Listed below are the types of activities and events included in each of the major participation categories. There may be other activities or events that fit each of the categories not listed below. If you have questions regarding an unlisted activity or event, please contact the Academic Director of the Science and Technology Residential College (STRC).

Academic Academic activities and events promote learning opportunities outside the traditional classroom or laboratory setting. These educational events foster the development of active learning and are an opportunity to make academic connections.

- College of Science and Technology Departmental Seminars
- Beaver Island Retreat
- Chicago Museum Trip
- Registered Student Organization (RSO) Night
- Active Membership in a Science and Technology RSO
- Science Bowl
- Research Nights
- Sky Viewing Nights
- Science and Technology Departmental (Class) Field Trips
- Attending a Science, Technology or Math Conference
- Presenting/attending CMU Student & Creative Endeavors Exhibition (SCREE)
- Participation in Faculty or Graduate Research
- ...and other related activities

Social Social activities are fun, enriching, community-building experiences. Students are encouraged to interact with their peers, as well as College of Science & Technology Faculty/Staff.

- Advisory Board Dinners
- Take a CST Faculty/Staff Member to Lunch in Woldt
- Student Mixers (game nights, holiday parties, etc.)
- Movie Nights
- STRC Forums
- Volleyball Games
- ...and other similar activities

Service These are community building activities and allow for involvement not only within the College of Science and Technology, but also the wider CMU Community and beyond.

- Volunteering at STRC Events
- Participating in running the Drive
- Volunteering at a Blood Drive
- Walk for Life (and related events)
- Volunteer Center Sponsored Events
- Service Projects
- Leadership or Service Role within STRC
- Volunteering at local animal shelters, soup kitchens, etc.
- ...and other related activities